

EDITIONS

MILANO

Being an editor means giving to the world our idea of beauty.

Inspired, valued, creative.

It means to translate the material and immaterial imaginary of our city: Milan.

We keep in our name and carry in our heart the innate Milanese attitude to distinguish the essential from the inessential.

Being an editor means to celebrate Italy: the major creativity, art and beauty maker in the world.

A role that history delivers us and that the world recognises us.

Our products are not only "Made in the Great Italy". They are created recovering old arts and techniques that are put in collision with the most innovative designers and projects.

The result is not only furniture. But elements of a philosophy of life that puts at its centre imagination, quality and beauty.
